DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-30 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-30 of U.S. Patent No. 6,600,374. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the current (child case) claim limitations are merely broader recitations of the parent case recitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 9, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujita (Fig. 1).

Regarding claims 1, 2, 9, 13 and 15, Fujita (Fig. 1) discloses an amplifier circuit comprising the method steps of detecting (3) a signal envelope voltage responsive to a receiver output (V_o), detecting (5; it should be noted that the element 5 of Fujita is functionally equivalent to the claimed clock envelope voltage detector since the clock envelope voltage detector serves as the reference signal to the comparator) a clock envelope voltage, and adjusting (6) a gain to reduce a difference between the signal envelope voltage (V_p) and the clock envelope voltage (V_{RN} , V_{RP}).

Regarding claim 3, receiving (1) an input signal (V_s), amplifying (2) the input signal (V_s), and providing the amplified input signal (V_o).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujita (Fig. 1).

Fujita (Fig. 1) discloses all the limitations in the claim 21 except for that the group of receiver outputs includes eight receiver outputs. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have implemented the specific numbers of the receiver outputs, since they are based on the routine experimentation to obtain the optimum operating parameters.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Patent numbers (5,257,415; 6,166,598) are the amplifiers with the gain control circuits and comparators.
